MONTANA STATE UNIVERSITY

MONTANA STATE UNIVERSITY LIBRARY

e are School Spirit. You may not have noticed us in all the round of classes, study, club work, party-going, and general excitement that typifies a year at college, but we were there—in fact, we caused it all—with your help, of course. Some of you have strange impressions of us. There are those who think of us as slick-magazine "togetherness" or enthusiastic rah-rahism, and on the other hand, those who dismiss us as a piece of nonsense that stands between them and a degree. So much for that—what we are is harder to define. Those of you who feel you belong at Montana, who feel that you are as much a part of the University as it is of you, who work as constantly toward its betterment as you do toward your own individual goals—you know what we are—we're a part of you, and without you we would be nothing. We've been here waiting for you all along, and when you leave, though many of us will still be here working through those who have come to take your places, some of us will remain with you. Your memories of Montana will be, if you like, a Message from Departed Spirits.

"We must become inflamed with a noble desire to contribute something from our own means to the rich heritage of truth, morality and freedom that we have received from our forefathers: we must pass it on to posterity richly increased, and must seek to fortify our own fleeting existence by attaching it to this imperishable chain, which winds its way through all the generations of men."

-Johann Christoph Friedrich von Schiller

And that, in the words of Schiller, is what we're here for. There are those who don't think so, and those who aren't quite sure what they think—but whatever reasons be concocted, proving them and being bothered by them is half the fun--it's all in the game, and this book is a record of how the game is played.

FALL QUARTER 4
WINTER QUARTER 98
SPRING QUARTER 170

long summer's rest found us ready to get back to work as you returned to the campus for another year. You're easy to work on at first—only later, when enthusiasm starts to fade, do we call in reserves—if enough of you want it. Newly-arrived freshmen, strangely enough.

seem to know what we are already—until some of the problem cases among you get to them, but they need orienting and rushing—that's our first big job of the year. The hectic pace of fall quarter is chiefly our doing, too—we stir it up and leave it for you to control—quite a chore for both of us.

First days on campus for hundreds of newcomers poses the problems of acquainting them with the University and with each other, and getting them advised, registered and ready to begin the year—all this in one short week. Traditionally more confusing than enlightening. Orientation Week is showing signs of progress in the hands of a newly-created special committee, and is slated for further reforms.

Readily available Spurs and Bearpaws descended on visiting parents and ushered them off on campus tours; freshmen sons and daughters waited their chance, armed themselves with maps, and scouted around on their own in search of campus tandmarks and the shorter dorm-to-class coutes. The busiest building on campus, the Martell-supervised, student-populated Ludge has yet to earn the name "Student Union". ASMSU and AWS call it home, and thanks to its new extension, so do the Student Store and an expanded Food Service. Witnesses many long committee meetings, assorted dances and banquets, and, down in the Grill or the atmosphere-engineered "Room", pinochle games, coffee breaks and a never-ending hum of conversation.

And on into the week—lying in wait for all frosh and students-to-be-oriented was a formidable hattery of exams, designed to reveal everything from lung-spots to skill at tackling irregular French verbs—in short, overall mental and physical ability to make it through the four years ahead. The mass testing continued for days—and all the while, group leaders were hard at work keeping up the pace of Orientation's more informal side.

You're on your own during registration—just confer with your adviser, get into a line that tooks promising, and hope for the best. Football

The 1957 season began on a dismal note as Asiatic The invaded the ranks and Earl Keeley, around whom the offense was built, developed bursitis; final results were even worse—two wins out of seven conference games and a one-up-from-cellar position in Skyline standings. Post-season honorable mentions for several Grizzlies, notably lineman Renning's
All-America nod, brightened up the gloom, but there were those who thought the 1957 record was a basis for insisting on MSU's withdrawal from Skyline competition. Bead Coach Williams went Snow was infrequent and temperatures balmy, but winter finally arrived. After a busy autumn, we took a breather while you studied—but there was still plenty for us to do: we kept after musicians and foresters while they planned their dances, crowned queen after queen, helped the Grizzlies through another successful basketball season, took a weekend off to go skiing.

then came back to belp you do a little grade-curve sharpening and get ourselves in condition for spring.

This is Hibernation Quarter—ten short weeks full of long nights and longer assignments, when overloads run rampant and midnight oil burns low; when activity-minded students turn last-minute cramming into a science. Something new was added this quarter—a system of "honors" classes in biology, psychology, and history for high-aptitude students, a long-awaited dream which at last reached trial stage.

Late on the will the little Hall of Fame

Elrod Hall, home of foresters, dyed-in-the-wool independents, and a few stray freshmen, is known for its grade-point average, social reticence, and good-natured towdiness. Between novels, House-mother-authoress Berry somehow manages to keep things running smoothly and tries to solidify a vague Elrod tradition of group loyalty.

Turner Hall

Home for three years of an upperclasswoman's life. Furner features a spacious lawn for segregated sunbathing, occasional seated services with Craig Hall, another Homecoming Queen, independent residents who don't let hall organization bother them, monthly pajama parties, and a plush lounge which witnessed several honorary teas. Turner girls went to breakfast in Brantly via their own underground tunnel, spent the rest of their time studying, getting engaged, and being sedate.

sting the man for man

An indication of Montana's scoring balance was seen in the statistical 10-points-per-game average of five Silvertip regulars—Powell, Erickson, Sheriff, Balko, and Dunham, Junior forward Powell led scoring with 288 points in 22 games for a 13.1 game average; Powell and Balko both scored 24 points for individual single-game highs. Field goal shooting improved over 1957, free-throw scores declined, and rebound-retrieving soared. Despite the loss of four seniors, Coach Cox tooks forward to the '59 season with not unwarranted optimism.

Riflery

Although it received little publicity on campus, the MSU rifle team continued to make intermountain and national riflery well aware of its existence, blazing its way into a position of some prominence to share the spot of top-scoring sport with the swimming team. High-point man of the year was John Foster, who was rated among the top twenty riflemen in the nation, led the Western Division, and was named to the All-American second team. Worried womankind helped George Bernard Shaw bring to its ultimate end the legend of Dog Jian in his intermezzo from "Man and Superman"-the Great Lover meets one of his prize conquests in her inevitable resting place and tries to convince her that it's really not such a bad spot after all. The Mass quer production, with its stark settings and limited action, proved two things: 1(1) that hell is no place for a lady, and (2) that all Shavian characters need is thods enough to keep their tongues flying.

More Shaw, this time on a more standard plane and with a little pshaw thrown in for good measure: the pastor's wife had a poet friend, and being a Shavian woman who knew what was expected of her, she proved her point by choosing the weaker of the two—her successful, humbled husband. It was a triangle with unconventional corners, and the Masquers brought it to life and took it on tour of the state, where audiences enjoyed it reservedly—so did the M-Club.

And spring came—time of high temperatures and low instincts, when energy stored up from winter quarter was turned loose on the less-intellectual pursuits, Having survived rain, hail, sleet, and snow, we went on to tackle seasonal mud and begin close-quarter skirmishes with style-cramping spring fever. Sample: you wake up one morning and the weather's beautiful and the birds are singing and you don't feel like studying and classrooms are hot—and there you sit, wretched creature. with twenty credits. Sounds hopeless, but no time to pause and reflect—there's a staggering schedule ahead for the next eleven weeks: Leadership Camp, WUS Week, ASMSU

And a second of the first term of the control of th

Fresident met State Board and battle was joined—we watched controversy unfold before Montana Forum and decided the atmosphere was right for confuring up a much needed burst of spirited interest in the future of the University. Secondary efforts went into the schedule of free and easy weekends and pienics that had taken over from winter's claborate functions. Then Science Fair, Music Meet, and Interscholastic brought three waves of high-school visitors and our last hig jobs of the year.

On a more immediately practical line. NSA and its coordinator assisted in general committee-structure reshutfling. Budget and Finance produced its quota of general-fund allocations for the final okay (among them: a whooping $7,000 to be sunk into the golf course)-and all the while the old constitution was breathing its last, had to be rewritten, was finally approved in the spring elections. The Judiciary, firmly declaring thumbs down on publicity, stood guard over the liquor regulations together with the dean's office and went on quietly building up its strength.

ASMSU Committees

Busy work around campus is referred to any one of seventeen ASMSP committees as its nature warrants. Under the newly adopted committee structure, the student Government group deals with matters directly affecting campus politics:

Activities Board plans and schedules the many activities in and around the Lodge; social weekend events and general publicity and tradition-upholding comes under the jurisdiction of Student Affairs; wider-than-campus issues are handled by the international Maters section—all of which adds up to many hours of adolinistrative work for the civic-minded on campus.

End of season, and rain-swept skies prevented the Grizzly baseball team from playing a final double-header with

Montana State College, just as they had done in early April at the onset of the season. In between, the mood was hardly brighter—the overall record was 9-12, but it was a relatively poor showing for the Grizzlies: show 'em a southpaw pitcher and they'd panic. Post-season honors came to Chuck Bennett, who was named to the coaches' All-Skyline first team: Jerry Daley, senior shortstop, signed a professional contract with the Washington Senators' class D Superior farm team.

The MSU track team, thinnest in years, still managed to capture two dual meets, a second in the Western Division meet, and fifth in the conference meet.

Three all-time Montana University track and field records were set by Grizzly athletes during the 1958 season: Bill Anderson, junior half-miler, posted a non-winning time of 1:53 in the Western Division 880; Hal Utsond, broad-jump and javelin man, jumped 23 feet, 91½ inches in a dual meet with Utah State to set a new university mark in that event; and Ken Wersland threw the shot 51 feet in the conference meet for another record.

Grissly goliers made it through the season with two wins against six losses, heating Utah State and MSC in the process, though both upponents avenced themselves in return matches. Finishing-up work began on the new University Links with the coming of suitable weather; completion was selectured for sometime during the summer. Although carly-season rain can be counted on to delay training. Grizzly duffers will at least have a place to call home.

Tennis

The tennic team, with three wins against four losses, had one of the most successful seasons a pet squad has ever enjoyed at Montana.

Despite a late training start due to seasonal rain, the Grizzly between detected Washington State in a non-conference meet and whipped Utah State twice.

For the first time since Montana entered the Skyline Conference, the Silverlips picked up not one, but two league terms victories

Jubileers

The musical elite—"Montana's Finest Voices"—who combine near-professional song styling with smooth choreography and showcase arrangements of bailads, Broadway hits, and folk tunes. Established masters of the special occasion appearance, they lent polish and fiair to many of the year's more festive hanquets and receptions, gave Nite Club Dance patrons something to talk about, and took off on a concert tour of the state. At their late-spring concert, the campus at large finally found what the shouting was about—and another successful year came to a close for the Jubileers as they spread out into M-formation and wound up their program with the traditional "Montana, My Montana"—there wasn't a dry eye in the house.

Back for additional work and a master's degree, those who enter graduate school find new meanings for a few old phraseshard work and education, among others. Distinguished by a perpetually harassed look and a certain serious interest in study, graduates are avidlibrary frequenters, dedicated thesis writers, and bearers of the feeling that the time has come for them to leave camp activities to the younger generation.

Commencement

Finis—another year gone by. But age lends wisdom to you and fortifies our work with some measure of tradition. We'll see many of you again next fall—those who are leaving for good will find like-minded relatives Earnestness and Dedication to take our place.

Sentinel Patrons

We hereby wish to express our sincere appreciation to the below firms who so generously and graciously became patrons of the 1958

Sentiael. The support of such organizations plays an instrumental part in the successful publication of a good yearbook. It has been an honor for us to include them in the book, and we are proud to announce the support that they have given.

Requiem

—tor the academic year 1958, which has gone wherever years go, leaving in its wake various and sundry memories which well book to to be at to to in it, and this book you book no your hand, an attempt to eatch some of it on paper before it got completely away. I hope the book fulfills its purpose—I thought I knew what that was when the year first began, but there were times when I wasn't quite sure. If what has one into these pages is appreciated as a variety decrease during this one year, now and even more in times to come when you stop for a minute and wonder just what things were like way back then—the year's work will be repaid with interest.

I have planned the book rather straightforwardly, despite appearances, in an attempt to keep the year infact rather than divide it up into eracts blocks of armiarities. I hope the finished product is not as confusing for you as its embryo was for me, when, every once in a while, the overall layout scheme looked like something perpetrated by a drunken alkworm. The School Spirit theme, which I think is quite upt. live been handled with a maximum of restraint to provent the oppositioned of its having taken the book in hand and run off with it. I have avoided any crafty engineering of copy designed to draw a lump to the sentimental throat in the far-off future; in that respect, a college year is a tricky thing to handle—I hope I have done it well enough to suit you. I have editorialized to avoid stale yearbook objectivity, not to create issues where none existed.

From vital statistics to apologies—first and foremost, to all of you for the late delivery date, which was due in large measure to our move to new quarters—set us behind an even quarter, it did, and for a while we were considering passing out Seminels as Christmas presents. Next, I apologize to anyone whose more we may have mappelled or whom we now have to any their ottended roboed, swindled, misplaced, tailed to index, or caused to commit suicide in the course of production. Lastly, to the Ashton Engraying Company and the University Printing Department for our talling so far and so steadily behind.

And, for the many who were of great help during the year—thanks, and thanks again. Thanks from me to the entire staff, from associates to indexers, for a job well done—I hape you like your book. Thanks to Cyrile Van Duser, for keeping me set straight as to just what I was doing; to my parents, for putting up with me as I scattered Sentinel-to-he all over the house and snarled when approached; to Claud Lord and the University printers, for making such a handsome book out of such hair-raising dummies; to Frank Graff of the Ashton Engraving Company in Butte, for not suing when we missed deadline after deadline; to Dick Harris and Stan Gilbert of the Central Photographic Facility, for the use of many of than to attive and much or their time) to Dean Converb. Ken and Marris Coopler, Ed Dagan Bo Brown, Marcus Bourke, J. D. Coleman, Bob Dundas, Mary Nichol, Bill Retchin and H. Hartman of the S. K. Smith Cover Company in Los Angeles; to those who identified pictures and supplied information, usually in emergencies; and to anyone who at any time came up and wished me luck—thanks, as I have said, again.

The Requiem extends to the 1959 Sentinel staff also, which with the final production of the book gathered up its index cards, pica sticks, and what have you, and quietly faded away to make room for Jack and his '59 staff. With my last breath—best of luck, Jack.

It's been an interesting year.
